OFFICIAL COUNT OF COUNTY VOTE

The Times Gives the First Correct Tabulated Account of the Vote by Districts. Making Official Count was Tedious Job.

After an expenditure of more hard work than had been necessary at any previous election the commissioners have compiled the official returns of the vote in Adams county. The numerous tickets in the field in addition to dividing the vote made the task of compilation unusually tedious. All candidates except the democratic ones had their names placed on more than one ticket; some of them were on as many as four different tickets.

While the official count does not alter the election of any candidate in this district, the totals of the votes as previously published were all found to be incorrect, except that of Robert C. Bair, the Roosevelt candidate for Congress. Beside the Republican, Democratic and three Roosevelt tickets the Progressive, Socialist and Industrial major candidates each had their customary following. There were 67 Prohibition 89 Socialist and 4 Industrial votes cast for the presidential electors of their respective parties. But most all of these went to the candidates of the larger parties for Congressional representatives. The second ward of McSherrystown is the socialist stronghold with 25 straight votes for that party. The four votes for the Industrial party were all polled in the same district.

The Times gives, on page 3 of this issue, the first tabulated account published of the official vote of Adams County, showing the number of ballots cast in each district for all candidates except those of the prohibition, Socialist and Industrial parties.

CAN'T RUN EXCURSION

Chambersburg People Must go to Waynesboro to Board Train.

The Ministerial Association of Chambersburg had hoped to give notice of special rates for an excursion to "The World in Baltimore", but owing to an agreement between the Western Maryland railroad and the Merchants' Association, no excursion can be run over that road from Chambersburg to Baltimore, except by the consent of the Merchants' Association. This agreement applies to certain seasons of the year and "The World in Baltimore" comes within one of "the closed" seasons. An excursion will be run from Shippensburg but is not allowed to stop at Chambersburg.

An attempt was made to secure a rate good on regular trains for a limited period, and a rate of one fare for the round trip, good for five days, is offered by the Western Maryland, provided one hundred go and return at the same time, on one party ticket. If fifty go and come together, a rate of one and one-half cents a mile is available. If ten go and come together, a rate of two cents a mile is available. These are not special rates, but can be secured any time.

A number of the Chambersburg people especially want to attend the Baltimore Celebration and will go to Waynesboro to board the excursion train.

OBSERVED LUTHER DAY

St. James church has Special Home Mission Service.

St James Lutheran Church observed the 429th anniversary of the birth of Martin Luther Sunday evening. Even since the four hundredth anniversary thirty years ago, the general synod churches have been devoting the day to the cause of home missions. This day was emphasized yesterday by the rendition of a specially arranged program. The children who had been trained by Mrs. Wentz took the principal part of the service with songs and recitations, a large audience seemed pleased by the entire program.

COLLEGE TEAM BEATS DELEWARE

Gettysburg Foot Ball Team beat Delaware Team by Score of 27-0. Best Played Game of Season on Nixon Field.

Gettysburg College foot ball team displayed their ability to play the game when they defeated Delaware College on Nixon Field, Sat. by the score of 27-0. The game was a one sided affair from the start but made interesting by the spectacular playing of Gettysburg's backfield. Delaware was unable to make a first down. They were thrown for a loss every time they carried the ball.

In the first period Delaware kicked to Gettysburg on her 20 yard line. Leathers received the ball and ran the entire length of the field for a touchdown. Hoar kicked the goal. Delaware again kicked to Gettysburg and by a series of end runs and line plunging carried the ball for the second touchdown. Hoar took the ball over and kicked the goal. This ended the first period. Gettysburg added two more touchdowns in the second and third quarters. Here the scrubs were sent in and although they played a good game and held the Delaware boys without much trouble they were unable to run up an additional score.

The temperature was conducive to snappy playing and the crowd becoming imbued with the spirit of winning exhibited greater enthusiasm than had been displayed at any game during this season. A more concerted effort and better playing throughout was shown than at the former games. This will greatly help to relieve the stigma received from Muhlenburg, at Allentown last week. The next contest will be with Dickinson, Saturday of this week, on Nixon Field. It is expected that the greatest effort of the season will be made to win from these old time rivals.

PARCELS POST RULES

Rules issued by Department at Washington, effect Jan. 1st.

After Jan. 1, 1913, distinctive parcels post stamps must be used on all fourth class matter passing through the postoffice and all such matter bearing ordinary stamps will be treated as "held for postage". Parcels not bearing the return card of the sender will not be accepted. The foregoing regulations governing the parcels post, which is to go into effect Jan. 1, 1913, have been received from the post office department in Washington.

According to the department's plan, fourth class packages will be delivered to any house, but a package to be mailed must be taken to the postoffice. This rule, however, does not apply to persons living along rural routes, who may give their packages to the carrier as he goes by. The postoffice is to be provided with a new pair of scales and a six foot tape measure. Unless the tape can be wrapped around the package "both ways", it will not be accepted; and it must not weigh more than 11 pounds.

GAVE VOTERS LIQUOR

First Arrest in this Section for that Offence.

Something rather new in the political and criminal life of Chambersburg was enacted the other night when a man was held for court on the charge of breaking the election laws, that part of them that deals with the use of liquor on election day. Charles Norris, a negro, was held for court on the charge of furnishing whiskey to voters. The penalty, if a conviction is made on this charge, is a fine of from $50 to $500 and from 20 to 90 days in jail. This is the first arrest made in this section for an offense of this sort and its outcome is awaited with interest.

FURNISEED LIQUOR TO A MINOR

Mrs. Lizzie Darr, Charles Trimmer and Elmer Toddes held for Court. Sarah Wilkinson, the minor, witness for the Commonwealth.

A small but select gathering greeted Justice Harnish at his office Saturday evening at seven o'clock. Among those present by appointment were Mrs. Lizzie Darr, Charles Trimmer and Elmer Toddes, who had come to discuss the charge of "Furnishing Liquor to a Minor". Sarah Wilkinson was also there in the role of "A Minor". The ensuing conversation developed the fact that, among other things, Sarah was found at the Philadelphia and Reading station on Thursday evening by Officer Emmons suffering from the effects of too much alcohol stimulant.

She was escorted to her place of residence, the home of Mrs. Darr, by the officer and remarks dropped during the walk led to the arrest of the above named defendants. Warrants were served Friday afternoon and Toddes and Trimmer were released on their own recognizance to appear at the hearing Saturday evening. Mrs. Darr was unable to secure bail so she spent the intervening time with Sheriff Thompson.

As a witness for the Commonwealth, District Attorney Wible induced Sarah to relate the following story: She came to town about two years ago from her home near Biglerville and worked for Ben J. Kindig at the Wabash hotel. During this period she became acquainted with Mrs. Lizzie Darr. The next step in her education was received while working for Bill Devine at the Hotel O'Neil in Hanover. She learned to drink there and was advanced in iniquity during a visit to Mrs. Darr when the National Guards were here last summer. After the Guards left she followed some man to York and returned to visit Mrs. Darr last week.

Last Thursday evening Mrs. Darr gave her money to buy whiskey and after drinking some of this whiskey she and Mrs. Darr met Trimmer and Toddes at the Reading depot. There, she alleged, Toddes and Trimmer gave her more whiskey from bottles they had in their pockets. She became intoxicated and her three companions left her. Shortly after this Officer Emmons took her home.

Sarah declared her age was eighteen, while Attorney Edward A. Weaver, who appeared in capacity of counsel for the defense, said she didn't appear to be more than twelve. During the entire hearing she exhibited the same frolic of fifty, and her attitude was one of indignation rather than remorse. The defendants seemed highly indignant, too, because their reputations were scandalized in such a manner. Mrs. Darr remarked that Sarah's visit with her "ended right here". The whole outfit was bound over to appear at this week's session of court.

HUNTER'S FINED

26 Hunters are Fined $13 each for Trespass near Mt. Alto.

Nineteen men trespassed upon the farm of B. R. George, near Mont Alto, and each of them paid $13, fine and costs. Seven men were arrested for trespassing in an orchard at Ledys and each paid $13. Several of the hunters were caught there twice and paid $13 the second time. The farmers, as a rule, say they have no objection to hunters getting the game on their lands but insist that they have been driven to the law for protection from men who shoot their chickens, who endanger the lives of their residents and who destroy fences and other property.

BASE BALL

Fairview Defeated Round Top Saturday in Interesting Game.

THAT THANKLESS JOB

SOMETHING THAT SEEMS TO BE ALWAYS WITH US.

Evidence of Its Presence to Be Noted Wherever You May Look—Some Comfort in Remembering Words of Ruskin.

One of the most constant and distressing quantities in everyday life is the thankless job. It is firmly fixed in the established order of things that while we often rebel, we continue to accept. It seems immutably placed, and is illustrated in every circle of friendship or business.

The mother who sacrifices, oh, so much, for her children and is immediately relegated to second place, if not utterly neglected, when Tom, Dick or Mayme decides to marry; the daughter or son who after years of faithful tender service in the home, is accused of ingratitude when opportunities for a life of wider effort present themselves and are accepted; the generous hearted sister, who, having refused to listen to her own love story and having kept house for years for brother Bill and brother Bill's brood of motherless bairns, is told nonchalantly one morning that he, Bill, is to be married and "the boss of that particular ranch" hereafter will be the new wife; the white haired clerk who is either discharged or placed in a position that is an insult to his years of service, not to mention his intellect—these are but a few examples of the little thanks that loyalty commands.

Here's what Ruskin says on this subject:

"Generally, good, useful work, whether of the hand or head, is either ill-paid, or not paid at all. I don't say it should be so, but it always is so. People, as a rule, only pay for being amused or being cheated, not for being served. Five thousand a year to your talker, and a shilling a day to your fighter, digger, and thinker, is the rule. None of the best headwork in art, literature or science is ever paid for. How much do you think Homer got for his Iliad or Dante for his Paradise? Only bitter bread and salt, and going up and down other people's stairs. In science, the man who discovered the telescope and first saw heaven was paid with a dungeon; the man who invented the microscope and first saw earth died of starvation, driven from his home; it is indeed very clear that God means all thorough good work and talk to be done for nothing. Bafuch, the scribe, did not get a penny a line for writing Jeremiah's second roll for him, I fancy; and St. Stephen did not get bishop's pay for that long sermon of his to the Pharisees; nothing but stones."

True, work earnestly and loyally performed brings to a degree its own reward. The sweetness of doing something for either one's very own or the people out in the great, busy world is real and heart-warming but, even so, it doesn't satisfy any kind of man or woman outside of the ultra-saintly and excessively humble who, by the way, are few and far between. Men and women of everyday life need a tangible evidence of gratitude.

How many in life we meet, Forsooth, day after day, Who every time they talk contrive To give themselves away.

C. A. GRISCOM DIES SUDDENLY

Head of Shipping Trust in Only Two Weeks.

FAMILY WAS AT BEDSIDE

He Was Prominent in the Management of Many Large American Corporations.

Philadelphia, Nov. 11.—Clement A. Griscom, chairman of the board of directors of the International Mercantile Marine company, a director of the Pennsylvania Railroad company and widely identified with big financial interests, died at his home in Haverford, Pa., today.

The death came as a great surprise to every one outside the immediate family. Mr. Griscom had been ill for only two weeks. Congestion of the brain caused death.

The family was assembled at the bedside when the end came. Mrs. Griscom, a married daughter, Mrs. Samuel Bettie; Miss Frances C. Griscom and three sons, Clement A. Griscom, Jr., Rodman E. and Lloyd C., were there.

The sickness was as sudden as the death, for two weeks ago Mr. Griscom had been as hale as a man three score and eleven would be expected to be. He came to his office in the Land Title building with faithful regularity and was stricken with his illness without warning.

There were few men more familiar by name to the people of Philadelphia than Clement A. Griscom. His tremendous successes, his wide financial power, his many club affiliations, his proclivities as a sportsman—all these tended to carry his name far and wide; into all the newspapers and other journals and so into the homes.

Mr. Griscom was at times a director of the United States Steel Corporation, the William Cramp Ship and Engine Building company, the Electric Boat company, the Electric Trust company, the Bank of North America, the Commercial Trust company, the Fourth Street National bank, the Mercantile Trust company, the Long Island railroad, the National Transit company, the New York, Philadelphia & Norfolk railroad, the United Gas Improvement company, the Western Savings Fund society and a trustee of the Atlantic Mutual Insurance company.

So far as technical ability was recognized, Mr. Griscom was best known for his standing in the science of marine architecture in its special application to the merchant marine. He was the first president of the Society of Naval Architects and Marine Engineers and each year was re-elected to the position.

Connecticut Organization Makes Bonfire of It on Lawn.

Meriden, Conn., Nov. 11.—An exclusive social and Republican organization in this city, known as the Home Club, is in a chaotic condition as the result of the action of some of the dyed-in-the-wool Republican members, who destroyed the photograph of President Roosevelt, which was presented by him to the club with his autograph, when he was president.

When the election of Wilson was indicated late Tuesday night the picture was taken from a prominent place on the wall of the clubhouse by one member and thrown to the floor. Another member thrust his foot through the canvas, and then it was taken to the lawn in front of the club building and burned.

TWO KILLED BY ECONOMY

Gas Jet, Turned Half-Way Down, Is Blown Out by Wind.

Cincinnati, O., Nov. 11.—A mother and son are dead and another son is hovering between life and death as a result of an attempt at economy.

Mrs. Mary Peters and her son, Charles Peters, were overcome by gas. The mother was dead when found and the son died later at a hospital. Another son, William, is in a precarious condition.

A gas jet, turned half way down, had evidently been blown out by a draft of wind. The three then went to sleep and were found in sleeping positions and rushed to a hospital. William Peters is not expected to recover.

Fatally Stricken in Pulpit.

Birmingham, Ala., Nov. 11.—Rev. J. T. Plunkett, pastor of the South Highland Presbyterian church, after preaching a strong sermon on "Falling Leaves," took suddenly ill in his pulpit with acute indigestion. He was rushed to his home and died in a few minutes.

Shot in Street Quarrel.

EASTERN TRAINMEN TO DEMAND MORE WAGES

To Present Demands to Railroads Before Jan. 1.

Cleveland, O., Nov. 11.—A new wage schedule containing, it is said, a demand for a 10 per cent advance in the wages of conductors and trainmen on the fifty-two railroads east of Chicago and north of the Ohio river, will probably be presented to the committee of general managers representing the roads at the first of the year, it was learned here.

Although W. G. Lee, president of the Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen, refuses to discuss the nature of the demands, it is said a vote of all the members on the submission of the demands has been conducted for nearly a month, and will not be completed before the last of the year.

The trainmen and conductors were expected to be ready to submit their demands, which were formulated at a joint conference of the officers at Rochester, N. Y., recently, when the result of the arbitration of the engineers' demands is made public. This probably will be next week.

The demand for the increase is said to be due to the fact that the trainmen in the eastern section receive an average 10 per cent less than the wages of those of the western and southern sections. Standardization of wages on all the fifty-two roads involved is also contained in the demands, it is said.

"All men back of the engine" are affected in the new schedule of the conductors and trainmen, of whom there are about 175,000.

GETS COLON BY WIRELESS

Arlington Station, Using Only Half Power, Reaches Isthmus.

Washington, Nov. 11.—Direct wireless communication between Colon and the new Arlington wireless station, a distance of 1780 miles, was established.

Colon replied to a message by radio: "Got you fine." Unrelayed replies also were received from Guantanamo, Cuba, 1200 miles distant, and from Key West and St. Augustine, Fla.

Wireless officials in Washington believe they also heard one of the Pacific coast stations answer their call, but it was not distinct enough to identify. The battleship Utah with the Atlantic fleet on the southern drift grounds off the Virginia capes, sent back word she got Arlington clearly.

The Arlington station is still working at only a little more than half power. At full sending strength it will be able to send and receive fully 3000 miles.

SLAIN BY HUNTER

Companion Tripped and Fell, Pulling Hammer of Gun.

Lewistown, Pa., Nov. 11.—Another hunting tragedy occurred near here, when John C. Nipple, aged twenty-one years, was fatally shot by William Campbell while hunting rabbits near their homes in Ferguson Valley.

Campbell tripped and fell, pulling the hammer of his shotgun and sending the load of shot into Nipple's right kidney and lung. The wounded man died in a short time.

The system now is operated in 12,773 post-offices and 7357 banks have qualified to receive postal savings funds.

POWERS TO SAVE CONSTANTINOPLE

Agree on Plan to Prevent the Fall of the City.

DULGARS ARE ADVANCING

Turkish Lines Are Crumbling Before Their Attack—Cholera Menaces Ottoman Army.

Paris, Nov. 11.—The great powers, Great Britain, France and Russia, constituting the triple entente, and Germany, Austria and Italy, the triple alliance, are believed to be at the point of reaching an agreement to prevent the Bulgarian army from occupying Constantinople.

The six governments find themselves in accord on the principle and active exchanges are in progress as to the means to be taken to bring about this result.

One suggestion is a collective provisional occupation of Constantinople by the six powers, with the consent of Turkey, under the assumption that such action was necessary to protect the subjects of the respective nations and to maintain order.

The Bulgarian government appears already to have indicated that it has no intention of trying to hold Constantinople, and that it would occupy the Turkish capital temporarily only—until peace had been arranged.

This, it is stated, is not satisfactory to the powers. It is pointed out that such occupation might continue indefinitely, and certainly during the long discussion preceding a settlement of the questions raised by the war, and would render a permanent agreement more difficult to reach by the European conference.

It is considered essential for the great international interests that the Bosphorus, Constantinople, the Dardanelles and a narrow zone in European Turkey should be retained by the Turks.

Bulgars Continue Advance.

London, Nov. 11.—The correspondent of the Vienna Reichspost at Bulgarian headquarters says: "The Bulgarian attack on the Tchaclia lines is progressing successfully. Further points on the Turkish outpost lines have been captured."

The decisive attack will be carried with such force that the Bulgarians will reach the gates of Constantinople simultaneously with the fleeing Turkish troops. By immediate occupation of the capital they will prevent diplomatic interference and a massacre."

The outbreak of cholera in the Turkish army is assuming serious proportions. Twenty-three cases had occurred among the troops along the Tchaclia lines up to last Wednesday. There are many more suspected cases among the wounded. A trainload of wounded has just reached Constantinople, eight of the soldiers having died on the way, presumably from the cholera.

The disease is getting a firmer hold on account of the massing of the soldiers, the lack of proper food and the complete absence of sanitary arrangements.

NAMELESS FOR 34 YEARS

Alienists Hope to Restore Memory to a Pathetic Convict.

Cincinnati, O., Nov. 11.—Stranger than the weirdest fairy fiction is the story of Prisoner No. 12,488, from the Ohio penitentiary, who was sent to the Long View Hospital for the Insane by Probate Judge Luaders under the name of E. A. Dickerson.

That is the assumed name he, as a young man, gave in 1878, when he pleaded guilty to forgery and was sentenced to one year in the penitentiary. He had assumed the name to protect his family name, which at the time was said to be prominent.

When half through with his sentence he was afflicted with a mental disease and was taken to the State Hospital for the Insane, and he did not again breathe the air of liberty, although thirty-four years have since elapsed.

What his name is may never be known. All the records of the criminal court in Hamilton county previous to 1934 were destroyed in the great fire and riot at the court house of that year. The man does not know his own name nor the names of his father and mother. His mind is a blank. At Long View he will be given special attention in the hope that he may be restored to his reason.

Napoleon at St. Helena.

Describing the food which was placed on his table by his physician, Doctor Antommarchi, he said: "Physicians have the right of regulating the table; it is fit I should give you an account of mine. Behold what it consists of: A basin of soup, two plates of meat, one of vegetables, a salad when I can take it, compose the whole service; half a bottle of claret, which I dilute with a good deal of water, serves me for drink; I drink a little of it pure toward the end of the repast. Sometimes, when I feel fatigued, I substitute champagne for claret; it is a sure means of giving a fillip to the stomach."

The doctor having expressed his surprise at this temperate mode of living, he replied: "In my marches with the army of Italy I never failed to put in the bow of my saddle a bottle of wine, some bread and cold fowl. This provision sufficed for the wants of the day; I may even say I often shared it with others. I thus gained time; the economy of my table turned to account on the field of battle. For the rest I eat fast, masticate little; my meals do not consume my hours. This is not what you will approve the most; but in my present situation what signifies it?"

VINCENT ASTOR TO GET $100,000,000

Young Heir Will Have Control
of Big Fortune.

New York, Nov. 11.—The immense Astor estate, estimated at about $100,000,000, will be turned over formally to the keeping of William Vincent Astor on Friday of this week.

On that day he will come of age, and the millions which have been held in trust for him since the death of his father on the Titanic will become his in fact, and there will be no one to tell him how they shall be used.

The property consists of large parcels of land in the central part of Manhattan, especially in the neighborhood of Broadway, Fifth avenue and Forty-second street. There is a group of business and tenement buildings on the middle West Side and one on the lower East Side, a large tract in the Bronx near the old Morris Park race track, the immense country estate, Ferncliff, at Rhinebeck, N. Y.; a villa and grounds in Newport, several less important properties and a collection of jewels, paintings and sculptures.

MINERS' NARROW ESCAPE

Ten Wagons and Mule Engulfed in Cave-in, Which Nearly Caught Men. Shanokin, Pa., Nov. 11.—John Stenchock and Wally Buronski had a thrilling escape from death as they were completing a shift at the Natalie colliery.

They started from No. 2 slope with three mules attached to ten wagons. Stenchock rode the leading mule, while his companion sat on the third animal.

A cave-in from underground workings occurred. Hearing the ground break, Stenchock saw the ten wagons disappear, with the rear mule struggling to retain its footing.

Stenchock whipped his mule into a gallop as the rear mule was sucked into the chasm. Buronski slid over the animal's head and, grabbing the traces of the second mule, was pulled clear of the cave-in.

SOCIALISTS GAIN
NEARLY DOUBLE

Debs For President Polled
Nearly Million Votes.

ELECTED MANY LEGISLATORS

Leaders Say They Would Have Made a Better Showing Had Colonel Roosevelt Not Been a Candidate.

Washington, Nov. 11.—The Socialist vote in the United States at last Tuesday's election was nearly 100 per cent greater than the vote cast for that party's candidates in the presidential election of 1908. It will be near the million mark.

The spread of the doctrine seems not to have been confined to any particular section, nearly every state in the Union showing an unusual increase.

While rejoicing over the progress made by their cause, many Socialist leaders declare that a still greater showing would have been made had Colonel Roosevelt not inaugurated the Bull Moose movement, which attracted many voters from Debs, who has been running for president on the Socialist ticket for many years.

It is believed that when all the returns have been canvassed it will be found that a score or more Socialists throughout the country will have been elected to state legislatures. Kansas has elected one state senator and one member of the general assembly.

From the far south comes the story that in Mississippi Debs received a total vote greater than President Taft. In the far west California gave him 66,350 votes, or 37,691 more than he received four years ago. Minnesota, on the northern boundary line, went a little better with her Socialist vote than in 1908, returning an estimated total of 15,000 Debs ballots. In New York state the Socialists polled 49,986, an increase of 11,535, and in Pennsylvania they polled 61,000 and nearly doubled their vote. Indiana, Kansas, Nebraska, Arkansas, Louisiana, Mississippi, Virginia and Washington are among the states which trebled or nearly trebled their vote for the Socialist candidate.

In Indiana the movement was largely recruited by dissatisfied men in the Democratic party. It is claimed, the total increase being 270 per cent over the Debs vote of 1908.

DEMOCRATS GET SENATE

Will Have 49, a Majority of 2—California For Roosevelt.

Washington, Nov. 11.—Virtually complete returns from California show that Colonel Roosevelt has definitely wrested the state from Governor Wilson, his plurality over the Democrat being about 500 votes.

Wilson, however, gets four more electoral votes by winning Idaho from President Taft by a plurality of about 600.

If an official count does not change these two results Wilson will have carried forty states, with 433 electoral votes; Roosevelt, six states, with 90, and Taft only two states, with 8 votes. These two states are Utah and Vermont.

Unofficial returns show the nation's popular vote to have been:

Wilson.....	6,398,000
Roosevelt.....	4,315,000
Taft.....	3,350,000

Positive announcement of the success of Harry Lane, the Democratic candidate for the United States senate in Oregon, assures Democratic control of the upper house of congress and places both branches of the national legislature and the presidency in their hands for the first time in twenty years.

The addition of Oregon to the Democratic list gives that party forty-nine senators, or a majority of two.

DEATH IN BURNING CULM

Two Workmen Expire at a Cave-In, Other Is Dying.

Wilkes-Barre, Pa., Nov. 11.—While men were working on a burning culm bank at the Pine Ridge colliery of the Delaware & Hudson company at Parsons, near here, a portion of the bank caved in, suffocating Stephen Zevenka, aged forty, a laborer.

James Matthews, another laborer, was dug out of the debris, but was so badly burned that he died at the hospital. Andrew Skolanda, a laborer, was also probably fatally burned.

Suicide on Husband's Grave.

Milford, Conn., Nov. 11.—At the grave of her husband, Mrs. Alice M. DeVine, of New York, shot and killed herself. Her husband was buried three years ago. Grief at his death is believed to have unbalanced her mind. She came to Milford from New York by train. Among her effects was a letter directing that she be buried beside her husband.

Falls Dead into Grave He Dug.

Haskell, Okla., Nov. 11.—Joseph Turby, seventy-five years old, assisted in digging his own grave, although he thought it was to be the final resting place of another. Apparently in good health, Turby, with another man, dug the grave for a woman who had died, and immediately after the work was finished Turby tumbled into the grave, dead from heart disease.

TO RUSH ANTI-TRUST SUITS

Attorney General Wickersham to Complete as Many as Possible.

Washington, Nov. 11.—The department of justice is making a strenuous effort to push as close to conclusion as possible all the pending anti-trust prosecutions of the Taft administration for President-elect Wilson and his attorney general when they take the oath of office on March 4.

The taking of testimony in most of the suits will have been completed, it is believed, and the cases be before the courts for decision before the Republican administration expires.

While the issues have been joined in the two biggest pending cases—the suits against the steel and Harvester "trusts"—it is not thought they will be ready for decision by March 4. The steel suit probably will extend well into the new administration, but officials foresee the end of the testimony and arguments in the Harvester case by April or May.

Several of the suits against retail lumber dealers' associations, regarded as among the most important cases because they involve the extent of the rights of the "middle man" in commerce, in all probability will be ready for determination by the courts before President Taft retires.

While the taking of testimony in the civil suit for the dissolution of the American Sugar Refining company is approaching conclusion, it is understood that Attorney General Wickersham will not retry the criminal sugar case which resulted in a disagreement of the jury.

The cases against the Keystone Watch Case company, the "magazine trust" and the transatlantic steamship "pool," according to expectations, will be in the hands of the judges by inauguration day.

Among the important issues which likely will go over into the Wilson administration for final preparation for the courts are the cases against the National Cash Register company, the "motion picture trust," several alleged steamship "pools" and the United Shoe Machinery company.

SEVENTEEN HELD UP
IN POOL ROOM

Robbed of $2200 by Two Masked Men.

Grand Forks, N. D., Nov. 11.—Seventeen men were held up by two masked robbers in a pool room at Dolomite, N. D., and $2200 was taken from them.

The robbery was pulled off in true wild west style and the two men made a successful getaway. The two robbers leveled revolvers at the crowd and told them to throw up their hands. Into the air went seventeen pair of hands. The victims were then lined up in a row at one side of the room.

One robber stood on guard with two revolvers covering the crowd, while the other robber passed along the line. From one man $1500 was secured, while from the other sixteen victims a total of $200. The job completed, the robbers backed to the door. They escaped on horseback.

GETS BAILEY'S JOB

Resignation Due Soon, Governor Has Picked Editor For Place.

Austin, Tex., Nov. 11.—United States Senator Joseph W. Bailey's resignation is expected to reach Governor Colquhoun within the next few days.

The governor is authority for the statement that Bailey will resign from the senate. At a conference of the Baileys, attended by Bailey, at Fort Worth, a few days ago, the senator announced his intention in the matter.

Governor Colquhoun authorized the announcement that he will appoint R. M. Johnston, editor of the Houston Daily Post, to the vacancy.

Try to Wreck D. L. & W. Train.

Danville, Pa., Nov. 11.—The train wreckers who have been operating on the Pennsylvania railroad in the vicinity of Rock Glen evidently have transferred their operations to the Delaware, Lackawanna & Western, as Warpan Dilleck, discovered a piece of pikeiron tightly wedged in between the rail and the guard rail. It was removed only a short time before the arrival of a passenger train.

Death to Bird and Boy.

Pittston, Pa., Nov. 11.—As Andrew Irvin, aged eleven years, of West Pittston, held a bird in his hand, Peter Timolina, aged sixteen, picked up a shotgun he did not know was loaded and fired at the bird. The bird was killed and Irvin fatally injured. Both hands were blown off and a hole was torn in his abdomen.

Bad Nuts Still Under Ban.

Harrisburg, Pa., Nov. 11.—People around the state seem to be forgetting that the sale of nuts which are unfit for food is against the law and that it leads to prosecutions, said Daist and Food Commissioner James Foster. Reports have come from several cities of the arrest of grocers who sold old and wormy nuts.

They Knew All About It.
"You must have lived in a little Scotch town," remarked a busy London woman, "to appreciate the pinpoints of interest to which a village may be reduced and the absolute publicity of your every movement in such a place."

"Once while I was visiting at home I happened to be lying down when callers came, so my mother did not disturb me. At tea time other callers arrived, and by way of making conversation one of them said to me very sweetly:

"We hear you've been lying down."—Harper's Bazar.

Willing to Wait.

A Baltimore clubman tells of two convicts who met for a moment alone in a corridor, and took advantage of the fact for a hurried interview. Said one, "How long are you in for?" "For life," responded the other. "And how long are you in for?" "Twelve years," responded the other.

"Then," said the "lifer," cautiously extracting a letter from his hiding place, as he glanced fearfully around, "take this and mail it for me when you get out."

Expensive.

"How often is your motor overhauled, Binks?" asked Dusenberry. "Four times last month," said Binks. "Four times in one month? Gee-rusalem! What for?" demanded Dusenberry.

"Speeding," said Binks. "Twice by the bicycle cops, once by a deputy sheriff and once by a plain, common, garden, village constable."—Judge.

DYSPEPTIC.

Clubman—I see you've been wearing plaid vests lately.
Grypes—Yes, the doctor says I must put a check on my stomach.

Was a Pawn Ticket.

"I can't fill this," said the druggist. "Don't you carry ordinary ingredients in stock?"
"I carry everything usually carried by a first-class pharmacy, but this piece of paper calls for a gold watch."

STYLES FOR SMALL GIRLS REAL-LY THOSE OF THEIR MOTHERS

Dainty Dress Ideas for the Little Ones Make Them a Miniature of the Grownups—Good Coat Model
for Maiden of Tender Years.

It is really amusing the way children's styles copy those of the grown-ups without losing any of the infantile charm they should have.
Little one-piece frocks for maids
from ten up take the popular peplum tail; some of the wee bodies of the same cross surplice fashion; skirts show the side plaiting worn by adults, suggested paniers and real ones.
The lace guimpes and undersleeves
of the "bebe" world, the various uses of plaid fabrics seen on children's coats and frocks, and some of the most severe of their hat trimmings—
these are things which the grownups copy. Yet it is all one and the same thing. The small girl can be her mamma in miniature, and her mamma can appropriate any number of her small daughter's dainty dress ideas if she only stops short of trying to make herself too young. We are at a very artificial stage in dress, and all that can be done is to make use of the prettiest ideas wherever they can be found.

Concerning the adult borrowing
from juvenile wear, the tiny floral gar-lands used upon ball frocks and to trim innumerable hats of delicate evening sort were once the privilege alone of the infant in arms. Dear babes, if only they could realize how much they have done to beautify their mamas and maiden aunts!

The illustration gives a very good coat model for a girl from ten to twelve, or for lassies still younger or older; for there is no age limit to the cut of the loose coat. Grandmamas and babes in arms wear about the same thing, so far as lines go.

This coat is in the usual simple sacque model, which lends itself to home making without too much fret and fume, shoulder bands and a belt giving it something of a long Norfolk look. The large flat collar and cuffs are in a contrasting fabric, and the big hip pockets lend the small garment a look of serious usefulness. The coat, which is made of chinchilla cloth and trimmed with velvet, is not lined, as the material is heavy enough without a doubling, and linings are seldom used now with the heavier coatings, so many of which are double faced, thus providing their own trimmings. Coating in two colors, or plaid one side and plain the other, corduroy, velveteen, wool cheviot and blanket flannel or serge are all adaptable materials to the style. If liked, too, the effect could be much changed

if a plaid fabric were used for the collar, cuffs and belt; and as to this scheme for a really fine garment there would be nothing handsomer than a black velveteen of good sort for the coat and trimmings of silk in one of the gay Scotch plaids. But, after all, mamma must suit the coat to the rest of the child's wardrobe; so if frocks are few and simple get one of the double-faced wools and make up the coat without the Norfolk plaits, which would make too much of a bungle with these thick materials.

MARY DEAN.

Plumage Toque.
It seems as though a hat made of feathers should be light, and so the plumage toques are in actual weight;
but they have a heavy look, thanks to their compactness, and this is not becoming. Nevertheless, they will be very fashionable up till Christmas, and are already obtainable in many colors and shapes. Very few of them have brims, but nearly all belong to the saucepan, the pudding basin or the coal scuttle persuasion.

Their only trimming is in nearly every case a little knot of brilliant feathers at the side, culled from a tropic bird.

HENRY'S SYSTEM.

Among the employees of an apartment house in Washington is a dusky elevator conductor, who would appear to have a "system" similar to that of the maid who announced to the guest at the door that she didn't hear her until she had rung three times.
"If anyone calls, Henry, while I am out, tell him to wait. I shall be right back," said a woman to the boy
in question.
No answer from the boy.
"Didn't you hear me? Why don't you answer?" demanded the woman angrily.
"I never answers, ma'am," explained Henry, "unless I doesn't hear,
and then I says 'What?'"—Judge.

Easy.
A New Yorker had occasion to phone from one suburb to another while visiting in a western city. Upon asking what the charge was, he was told 50 cents.
"Fifty cents! For that distance?
Great Scott! In New York you can call hell up for 50 cents."
"Possibly," coolly answered the operator. "It's in the city limits."—Argonaut.

THE REASON.

George—Have you ever observed that a woman always objects to any public demonstration of affection before marriage?

Arthur—Yes; also that it is the man who always objects afterward.

How About This?

Let the doctors decide
On this troublesome question.
If you swallow your pride
Will you get indigestion?

Did He Fill It?

"What caused the coolness between you and that young doctor? I thought you were engaged."

"His writing is rather illegible. He sent me a note calling for 10,000
kisses."

"Well?"
"I thought it was a prescription and took it to the druggist to be filled."

A Value on Applause.

"Why don't you go into politics?"
"How can I?" rejoined Mr. Dustin Stax. "If I were to ask the enormous corps of employees I control to get out and cheer for me they'd send a committee demanding extra compensation for working overtime."

Fresh Country Vegetables.

"I saw you digging in the garden
at daybreak."

"Yes," replied Farmer Corntassel.
"I have to be up bright and early so as to get the tomato cans hid from the summer boarders."

Call a veterinarian if a mare is having trouble in dropping a colt and you are in doubt of being able to assist her properly. A fee of $5 or $10 to the veterinarian may save a $300 mare and bring a colt into the world that will develop into a horse worth as much more.

MORE OUT-DOOR LIVING

And Death Rate Will Be Lowered.

Statistics prove that the death rate is very much greater in the winter months than in summer, and that the lack of fresh air is largely responsible for this condition.

If the system becomes run down,
blood thin and watery, circulation poor, no appetite, don't dose with drugs, but take our delicious cod liver and iron tonic Vinol, not a patent medicine, as everything in it is named on every package and if it does give you a hearty appetite, enrich the blood and create strength, we will return your money; that shows our faith in Vinol.

A case has just come to our attention from Albany, N. Y. Mrs. H. Hartman says: "I was in a run-down condition for about five years until this spring, when I learned what a good tonic and strengthener Vinol is.
It is certainly the best tonic I have ever used and it has done wonders
for me."

"NERVE," BUT NOT "NERVES"

Possession of the One Is Desirable,
While the Other Can Mean Nothing But Misery.

It is one thing to have nerve and quite another matter to have nerves.
When you possess a nerve—a good,
big nerve, of course—you will ride or walk rough shod over everybody and every object in your path, likewise in any path that isn't yours, but happens to catch your fancy; but afflicted with the plural, nerves, you are fit only to be trod upon. With a nerve you can take Wall street by the throat and bleed it; with nerves you are subject to torture from the poorest or meanest of creatures. With a nerve you can drive racing cars and fly aeroplanes; with nerves you are unable to pass without hearing distance of either monster without imagining it will turn from its course to run you down. Possessed of nerves you are given spells of misery and weeping; possessed of a nerve you laugh triumphantly and make others do the weeping. Nerves get out of order and lead to all sorts of physical and mental distress; but a big nerve grows by daily use, its happy owner waxing ever more and more sleek and prosperous. If you have too many nerves you are prone to prostration; if you have lots of nerve you may reach the loftiest elevation among your fellows. Many a man, and woman, too, of mediocre talent, has been carried to the pinnacle of success and fame on the strength of a single superb nerve;
many another, gifted and brilliant, has been held back by nerves. It is better to be nervy than nervous.
Therefore if you find nerves sprouting, cut them back as the florists do with the American Beauty rose.

Luxury of Being Rich.

When the Emperor Joseph II. was in Paris, in the reign of Louis XVI, he was in the habit of walking about the city incognito. One morning he went into an elegant coffee house
and asked for a cup of chocolate.
He was plainly dressed, and the waiters insolently refused it, saying it was too early. Without making any reply, he walked out, and went into a little coffee house.

He asked for a cup of chocolate,
and the landlord politely answered
that it should be ready in a moment.
While he waited for it, as the coffee house was empty, he walked up and down, and was conversing on different subjects, when the landlord's daughter, a very pretty girl, made her appearance.

The emperor wished her a good day, according to the French mode;
and observed to her father that it was time she should be married.
"Ah!" replied the old man; "if I had but a thousand crowns, I could marry her to a man who is very fond of her
—but, sir—the chocolate is ready."
The emperor called for pen, ink and paper; the girl ran to fetch them;
and he gave her an order on his banker for 5,000 livres.

Verlaine's First Book

A letter fished out of the collection of an autograph hunter reveals the occasion on which Verlaine's work
first attracted the attention of a critic.
It was written in 1867 by Eugene Vermeresch to the editor of an ephemeral review entitled L'Esprit Nouveau, and it runs as follows:

"My Dear Editor.—I owe you every apology for not responding sooner to your kind invitation to contribute to L'Esprit Nouveau, but I had not an idea in my head, and I did not like to send you any rubbish, as that would have been impolite and ungrateful.

It your columns are still open to me,
I will ask for space for a review—an appreciation of the 'Poemes Saturnians,' by Paul Verlaine, the unknown work of an unknown poet, which has fallen into my hands by accident.
Will you allow it to pass unobserved
like a star in the daytime or a flower or night, as Monselet puts it? No you will not, you who style yourself L'Esprit Nouveau."

That was Verlaine's first review,
but few people read it, and it failed to make him famous.

Power From Sea Waves.

At a recent meeting of the British association the question of economical production of power from tides and winds was under discussion, and it has been taken up widely by scientific journals in Europe. In France attention has been called to a system of utilizing the power of sea waves to actuate a dynamo which has been employed for some time past at the mouth of the River Gironde. An air-chamber is connected with a well which communicates with the sea at a depth below the level of the lowest tides. By the advance and recession of the waves changes of pressure are produced in the air-chamber, and a system of valves enables the resulting air currents to be applied to rotating a kind of turbine.
It is reported that the apparatus works equally well in calm and stormy weather.—Harper's Weekly.

Make Women Clean Streets.

Of the many systems of street cleaning adopted by various countries that used by the French government of Porto Novo, Dahomey, West Africa, is most economical. The native police examine the streets, and at any part which requires cleaning they stop the women and girls who happen to be passing at the time, and order them to sweep the rubbish into heaps.
The men are exempt from this unpaid work, as, naturally, it would interfere and retard the trade of the colony.

Know your brood sows.

Clean the poultry houses.

Chickens like sunflower seeds.

Kerosene emulsion is easily made.

A horse that is trained without blinds is usually the safer horse.

Young pigs are peculiarly subjected to various kinds of intestinal worms.

It is better to give the orchard clean cultivation than to try to raise crops
in it.

It is better to have a dirty floor than a dirty, dusty atmosphere during milking time.

Leave a horse untied when hooked to a vehicle and he will be likely to be gone when you return for him.

Fine gravel is not the proper grit for poultry. They want a sharp material with which to grind their food.

Expert orchardists recommend seeding the orchard to crimson clover—or rye to be plowed down the following spring.

In localities where aster, goldenrod and other fall blooms abound it is well to look for surplus even in September.

An hour's work with a sharp wire
at the foot of your peach trees killing borers may mean an extra bushel of fine peaches.

A City Store Stock Of Dry Goods, Carpets,
Ready to Wear Goods

More than twenty-seven years ago we began business here in a small store room and with a small stock—Business and Stock grew almost phenomenally from the start, because the foundation of this business of ours was laid in Truthfulness of Representation. Our clientele soon found that only goods that were reliable were to be had from us.

We have built on these foundations all these years, keeping the confidence of the community, gained when we came here first.

We have a store or aggregation of goods each season worth writing or talking about, but only through actual knowledge can one arrive at proper conclusions, so call at our store, take time to investigate or examine our stock.
